

THE VICTORY BALL

“Victory Arts Foundation is our small way of giving back to the community what God has given us.” - Shiamak Davar

On May 25, 2018, the Victory Arts Foundation will be hosting our first annual VICTORY Ball at Royal King Palace. The night promises to be unlike any event you have attended, permeating with fine performances, entertainment, games, and a very special raffle. Most importantly, guests will have the opportunity to witness our Victory performers. True to its name, the night will celebrate the triumphs of our local Victory Arts Foundation students. It is an opportunity to give back to a local and growing initiative. All proceeds from this event will go towards the Vancouver branch of Victory Arts Foundation.

Victory Arts Foundation was founded in 2004 in Mumbai, India. In 2009, the VICTORY programs were launched in Vancouver with the goal of making dance accessible to all individuals. The foundation helps people understand the power of dance to educate, entertain, empower, enlighten, and enable. In fact, dance has been shown to positively impact motor performance, reduce stress and anxiety levels, and enhance overall self-esteem. VICTORY makes dance accessible across age, gender, caste, class, and ability without prejudice. Most importantly, VICTORY endeavours to use dance as a therapeutic medium, bringing joy to the underprivileged, physically challenged, mentally challenged, visually impaired, deaf and mute. The program has touched the lives of over 15,000 individuals across 250 non-profit organizations in 15 cities between Vancouver and India.

In Vancouver, VICTORY runs Dance for Therapy classes in alliance with Northshore Connexions Society, Developmental Disabilities Association, and Down Syndrome Research Foundation. Also, VICTORY has spearheaded the Dance for Good initiative, which is an innovative and viral volunteering program; the program spreads the joy of dance through performance through showcases at senior centers, hospitals, and many other non-profit events in the lower mainland. Finally, we are involved in various school programs, one of which centers around teaching dance to children with Autism Spectrum Disorder.

VICTORY is supported in its' entirety by fundraising and donations. At this time we do not have any government grants nor corporate sponsorships. The organization's managers and administrators are all volunteer staff. The dance instructors, choreographers, and dancers all donate their time and expertise. Most importantly, we have a dedicated support team of students and parents alike. 100% of the proceeds from your generous donations and support of this event will go directly to the support and expansion of Dance as Therapy. We would like to broaden our Dance as Therapy classes to include Seniors Dance as Therapy programs in 2018. As well, we would like to realize the creation of a VICTORY dance team, to promote a more inclusive future for performing arts. Finally, we want to increase our capacity for Dance for Good performances.

TRIUMPH STORIES

Gallagher Stevens (Gall)

"Bollywood dancing gives me energy. I feel happy and powerful".

Jennifer Stevens (Gall's mother)

"I think the dance class has given him (Gall) a new interest in a culture and style he was not really familiar with. It has added a valued dimension to his life and confidence. Thanks to you all."

Nicholas Mascott (Nick)

"I love Shiamak's dance class and Sura is my idol!"

Rosemary Ramsay (Nick's mother)

"As a parent I feel that Shiamak has given him(Nick) a wonderful gift... not only to learn the dances, but increasingly give him confidence on stage, which he really loves. The Friday dance classes are the highlight of his week... so thank you!"
